What is an uninterruptible power supply (UPS)?

An uninterruptible power supply (UPS) greatly benefits homes, offices and businesses. It ensures a continuous power supply, even during power outages or fluctuations. This is crucial for sensitive electronic devices such as computers, Wi-Fi routers, and point-of-sale (POS) equipment.

Do smart devices need an uninterruptible power supply (UPS)?

Many smart devices have built-in battery packs, with modern laptops packing enough cells to last a whole day. However, typical desktop computers, routers, and similar devices still need to be plugged into a power source all the time to work. That's where an uninterruptible power supply (UPS) comes in.

What is a backup battery power supply?

Backup battery power supply is designed for use during outages and unsafe voltage fluctuations, and provides surge protector with battery backup in the event of damaging power surges and spikes.

What is a ups & how does it work?

What is a UPS? UPS stands for uninterruptible power supply, it's a device that acts as a battery backup in case of an electrical power failure. Small UPS machines for homes and offices supply enough power for a few minutes, so there's time to turn off devices properly without losing any work.

How much power does an ups need?

When sizing a UPS for your specific requirements, the power factor matters most. Generally, your UPS should have an Output Watt Capacity 20-25% higher than the total power drawn by any attached equipment. How much runtime do you need to support your attached equipment? That depends on what you intend to backup with your UPS.
